Choose the right sauna system for your space and needs

Finnish Dry Sauna / Traditional Sauna

Uses an electric heater with sauna stones. The classic dry heat experience at 70–100°C with low humidity — ideal for deep relaxation, detox and authentic Nordic wellness.

Wet Sauna / Steam Sauna

Uses a steam generator to produce moist heat. Operates at 45–65°C with high humidity (80–100%) — gentle on the respiratory system and perfect for skin hydration, sinus relief and full-body relaxation.

Infrared Sauna

Uses infrared panels to heat the body directly at lower temperatures (40–60°C) — penetrates deeper into tissue for superior muscle recovery, pain relief and cellular healing.

Health Benefits of Sauna Therapy

Science-backed benefits of regular sauna use — for body, mind and performance.

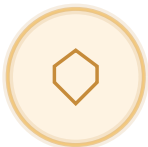

Deep Detoxification

Profuse sweating flushes toxins, heavy metals and metabolic waste through the skin.

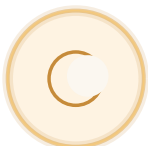

Muscle Recovery

Deep heat reduces soreness, relieves stiffness and accelerates tissue repair.

Immune Boost

Simulates fever response, activating white blood cells and strengthening immunity.

Better Sleep

Post-sauna temperature drop signals deep sleep onset for better recovery.

Cardiovascular Health

Elevates heart rate and improves circulation for long-term cardiovascular health.

Skin Rejuvenation

Opens pores, boosts skin circulation and gives a healthy radiant glow.

Stress & Mental Clarity

Triggers endorphin release, reducing anxiety and sharpening mental focus.

Weight Management

Burns 300–600 calories per session as the body regulates core temperature.
